	Green's Integrated Services (GIS)	Established and managed GIS from 2002 to 2010. GIS was a reseller of Vodacom Lesotho and changed the telephony sub-sector of the telecommunications sector. As a Managing Director, the company designed, manufactured and deployed public phone booths all over the country. In addition, the company was the first to use street vendors to sell airtime. Under my guidance, the company was also responsible for the deployment of over 54 Vodacom Containers in Lesotho. The model used was developed and implemented and provided viable businesses for hundreds of Basotho. This model has subsequently been copied by other telecommunications networks.
	Other initiatives	Managed Strategic Visions, a consulting company between 2008 and 2010. Managed The Call Centre Company that operated for a year in 2009. Established and helped manage Armstrong & Associates Consulting.
